

BRITAIN'S DEBT
$1,000 PER CAPITA

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 28.—The per capita debt of Great Britain was estimated today at about $1,000. While peace has found Great Britain bearing the most tremendous financial burden in her history, leading statesmen and financial magnates claim that the country is still commercially supreme in Europe.

British business men, however, declare that intense American and Japanese competition is immediately ahead. And, as Germany revives and begins to absorb some of the wealth in Russia, German resources and competition will expand.

The peace treaty has given Great Britain's business interests a far better place from a competitive standpoint than they occupied before the war, owing to the removal of interlocking and subsidized German trade methods.

German manufacturers before the war were aided by special railway rates. Hereafter British firms will enjoy the same privileges. Britain is amassing a gigantic mercantile fleet, whereas all of Germany's ships today are under 1,600 tons.

SOCIETY NOTES.

John Doyle, Jr., was tendered a surprise party Tuesday evening in honor of his 15th birthday at the home of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle, No. 22 East Strand, and a most delightful time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Edward Coykendall is giving a tea this afternoon complimentary to Miss Margaret Jeffers Hobart, who is to be one of the principal speakers at the mass meeting in Holy Cross hall tonight. Only the officers of the various women's and girls' organizations in Holy Cross parish have been invited to meet Miss Hobart.

A jolly crowd of young people gathered at the home of Frank J. Kregloskie, No. 59 East Pierpont street, Tuesday evening, and made merry. During the evening John Krueger sang several songs that were very much appreciated. Joe Roskowski kept all in a jovial mood with his witty remarks and Lester Barth rendered a monologue, which was up to the minute. At Perry presided at the piano during the evening. At midnight a luncheon was served, which was prepared by "Art" Rafferty as only he can accomplish, being a past master in the art, and he had quite a strenuous time making sandwiches and cutting pie for "Les" Barth, who got away with everything but the tablecloth. All expressed the wish on leaving that they would soon gather together again for another good time. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rafferty, Mrs. Amelia Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Perry, Miss Mary McCaffery, Lester Barth, Henry Munch, John Krueger, Joe Roskowski, Al Perry, Leo Kregloskie and Frank J. Kregloskie.

Brooks-Fiedler.

Miss Rose Fiedler, formerly of Kingston and Charles Brooks of Los Angeles, Cal., were united in marriage in Los Angeles, Cal., on January 26. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Regina Fiedler who for many years conducted a millinery shop on upper Broadway. She will be well remembered by scores of her friends here who wish her much happiness.

Kelly-Tubbs.

Miss Edith Tubbs of Highland and Henry J. Kelly of Wappingers Falls were married last Saturday at the Falls. They were attended by James Kelly and Miss Anna Proctor, brother and cousin of the groom. Mr. Kelly, or "Turkey" as he is known along the Hudson river, is a boxer. He has taken part in a number of bouts in Poughkeepsie. During the war he served in the army. The couple will reside in Highland.

Lowell Club.

The week, the Lowell Club met with Mrs. Lewis at her home on East Street. The general topic for the evening was that of "Travel Talks." The roll call, "The Spain of Washington Irving," brought out not only extracts from his writings, but also on the author's character, etc., proved especially interesting. The afternoon's program was in honor of Mrs. Walter Steiner who gave a very interesting and entertaining travel talk on "Spain." Next week the club will meet with Mrs. James H. Everett.

"Touché" in Gotham Town.

George Simmons of Bar Harbor, Me., and Virgil Rosenkrans of the "Anchorage," this town, had an unusual and undesirable experience in New York city on Saturday, when both had their pockets picked. The two were attending the poultry show at Madison square garden, and it was while moving about among the crowds there, that they were "touché." Simmons was relieved of $2.02 and Rosenkrans had his railroad ticket and $10 taken. The money taken from Simmons belonged to his brother, Fred, who is employed in Great Britain, as he had given it to him to bring home and "bank" in the "super hot savings bank."—Poughkeepsie Post.

In Appreciation.

We desire to acknowledge and thank the Altar Guild, Ladies' Auxiliary and Sunday school of St. John's Church, members of K. C. C. R. R. C. Transferred: Wm. Frederick & Joseph, two friends and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy during our sad bereavement and for the burial services at the funeral of my late husband and father, Frederick Henry Simon, MRS. PAY AS YOU GO.

Writer Suggests Dividing Trolley System into Zones.

Kingston Daily Freeman: I have a suggestion to make in regard to trolley service and the abandonment of the Washington avenue line.

Why not let the people pay in proportion to the service rendered. On all railroads passengers pay for the distance they travel and I do not see why that should not apply to trolley service in this city. I would divide the city into zones and charge according to the zones traveled in. The Colonial line I would divide into four zones: First zone, Marius street to North Front and Wall street; second zone, to West Shore; third zone, to Harshbrouck avenue and Strand; fourth zone, to Kingston Point.

The Kingston City line I would divide into three zones: First zone, North Front street to West Shore; second zone, to Rhinebeck ferry; third zone, to Kingston Point.

The amount of fare would have to be determined by the company, but I would suggest 5 cents for the first zone, 6 cents for the second zone, 7 cents for the third and 8 cents for the fourth, or 6, 7, 8 and 10 cents. This would mean that the person going from Washington avenue to Kingston Point would pay more than the person going from Main and Fair to the West Shore station, and right to the station. "Pay according to service rendered," it seems to me, ought to be the motto. Yours respectfully, HOWARD WILBUR, Delta Place.

CHURCH AND SYNOD.

KINGSTON, N. Y. JAN 23, 1920.

The Assembly, which is so busy seeking evidence to justify the exclusion from its ranks of five Socialists, might profitably devote some time to the prompt defeat of the socialistic bills now before it and the repeal of some of the extravagant laws now on the statute books. It makes little difference whether or not there are avowed Socialists in the Legislature so long as those who profess to be non-Socialists permit the enactment of distinctly socialistic laws. There are the notorious "welfare" bills of last year, providing for compulsory health insurance, minimum wages, maximum working day, etc. There is a bill providing for a commissioner to embark in the milk business with $150,000 of the state's money as capital and a salary of $15 a day while he is working, and there are other bills, not perhaps socialistic, but that will create new and useless offices to do things that should be done, if at all, by individual effort.

There seems to be a growing notion among uplifters that everything good should be carried on at public expense—that proof, however shadowy, of merit or necessity, is sufficient reason for a raid on the taxpayers. Between the effect of this idea carried into practice and the effect of Socialism there is little difference. Under either plan we pay taxes to have things done for us that we should do for ourselves, we remove the incentive to individual effort and come to rely on the state for everything, feeling no sense of personal responsibility.

In Ulster County we have a Home Bureau, a necessary and excellent institution that accomplished the greatest amount of work last year since it came into existence and did it without any appropriation from the county. It plans to continue in the same way this year and should and will meet with success, those who are interested paying the expenses. Yet at a meeting recently held in this city several speakers dwelt upon the refusal of the Board of Supervisors to appropriate public money for the aid of the Home Bureau, holding up as a reason for an appropriation the good work done last year without any appropriation. Strike out the words, "Home Bureau," and insert in their place, "Christian Church," "Mad Cross," "Bible Society," or "Chamber of Commerce," in these speeches and you have as convincing an argument for appropriation of public money for the organizations named. Either is as worthy and as necessary as is the Home Bureau, yet neither has asked for an appropriation, and a request from either for aid from the taxpayers would be at once hoisted down.

Merit is not the only test by which applications for public money must be considered. Neither is necessity. Nothing could be more necessary or more meritorious than the Red Cross, but that organization without the strains of war without asking appropriations from taxpayers, realizing that public money should not be appropriated for unofficial or even semi-official spending, no matter how worthy the cause or how great the need. The Red Cross deserved support and got it. The Home Bureau deserved support and got it last year. It deserves and will get support again this year. The only support it should get is the support devoted to attempting to exact a small appropriation from the taxpayers who would be, as it was last year, standing on its own feet, independent and existing because it was demonstrating to its members the right to exist.

Of course in a few weeks, when we reap the full benefits of prohibition and all our jails, penitentiaries, prisons, poor houses and benevolent institutions are empty and we no longer have to pay the expenses of maintaining criminal courts or penitentiaries, when the poorest of the poor will work over forty acres of land and a driver and the new houses and the new north promised us by the President have arrived, we will have money to devote to the needy and every form of capital can have a full opportunity. Then we can all hold public offices and live of one another, like the inhabitants of that village in France written of by one of our army correspondents, where the people made a living by taking in washing for one another. Until that day arrives let us go ahead.

SUPREME COURT TO SPEAK.

Respectively of the merits of the question itself, it is matter for congratulation that Chief Justice White has cleared the way for Rhode Island's suit in the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the Eighteenth amendment in the matter of the new powers it confers on the federal government and the formerly reserved police powers which it is said to take from the states. It were well indeed if all the constitutional objections that have been made could be included in this first hearing and the whole matter could be definitely and finally disposed of without delay. The sooner "wets" and "drys" know the word, or the best, according to their point of view, the better for the country. For meanwhile there will be continuing disturbance and strife.

For example, here is William H. Anderson, New York state superintendent for the Anti-Saloon League, not only declaring that the league "will stay in politics" and leading a bitter fight against the return of James W. Wadsworth of New York to the United States Senate because he is a "wet" but boldly announcing a nation-wide campaign of the league "against the election of anti-prohibitionists to Congress" and virtually serving notice on the parties that they must make the stability or enforcement of prohibition their chief plank or take the consequences. In other words, the Anti-Saloon League purposes to pack congress for prohibition just as long as that policy may incur the risk of a single opposing congressman's voice raised in protest. As good citizens of the old-fashioned sort would prefer the government and the supreme court to command in this matter, rather than the Anti-Saloon League, such citizens are glad to expect without great delay a supreme court decision that, whatever its nature, will carry the weight of an utterance of authority.

To Make Will Van Etten Stock Up on Marimba Records.

William H. Van Etten, the popular member of the Kingston Shriner's Association has returned from New York city where he and Sam Brown, president of the Kingston Shriner's Association, were so successful in procuring the famous Yerkes Marimba orchestra and specialty acts for the Shriner's ball at the armory on Monday evening, February 16th.

Messrs. Van Etten and Brown after hearing the Marimba band claim they have no equal and the people of Kingston and vicinity are fortunate in securing such top notch music for the dance.

ICE HARVEST IS NEARING CLOSE

Rondout Creek Houses Are Filled, and Several Hudson River Houses Mere—Working at Escopus—May Start Again at Flatbush Next Week.

The ice harvest in this vicinity is drawing to a close, and while the latter part of the harvest has been delayed somewhat by the daily snow storms the ice obtained has been of excellent quality.

The Kaickerbocker Ice Company has filled the Kingston Point house with 13,000 tons, the Rondout creek house with 15,000 tons, the Turkey Point house with 13,000 tons, and have stored 15,000 tons in the large Flatbush house. They are now working at the big Escopus house which has a capacity of 40,000 tons. Already 18,000 tons have been harvested and stored, and it is expected, weather conditions favorable, to fill the house there this week or early next week, when the crew of ice workers will be taken to Flatbush to resume filling the house there.

Burns Brothers have filled their Kingston Point house with 18,000 tons. At Rhinebeck the Kaickerbocker Company has a big house, but as far as known no attempt will be made to fill it this winter.

Up the Rondout creek John Quigley has filled his 7,000 ton house, Daniel H. Zoller has stored 9,000 tons. John A. Fischer has stored 4,500 tons, and the Maines house contains 4,000 tons.

All of the local ice dealers have stored all the supply they need for the coming summer.

This winter several barges in the Rondout creek are also being filled with cargoes of ice, and will be ready to go down to the New York market in the first tow of the season.

League Games This Evening.

At St. Peter's Hall this evening there will be two more games played in the Colonial basketball league when St. Peter's play Peerless and Centrals play Emeralds. These games will be interesting as much depends on the result. Should St. Peter's defeat Peerless and Emeralds defeat Centrals it would leave St. Peter's tied for first place, so you can expect some good playing. Dancing after the game, with music by Shurtz's orchestra.

CONCRETE VESSELS LOST.

Army Tag Is Searching for Two Still Missing.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 28.—The United States army tug Slocum left this port today in search of three concrete vessels lost yesterday in a gale off the Oregon coast while in tow of the Slocum. The Slocum came into the Columbia river last night with one concrete vessel in tow, but was unable to bring in the remaining three.

The Slocum, which was bound for San Francisco with the concrete ships, wireless that she had lost three of the vessels. The wireless said the boats were disabled and in a sinking condition.

Alaskans Buy Plattekill Farm.

Joseph M. Murphy and Ralph Langenberg, who owned a large ranch on the border of Alaska and Canada, which they recently sold, after traveling through several sections inspecting farms, decided to come to Newburgh by advice of the Strout Farm Agency and inspect a farm that was outlined to meet their requirements. Yesterday they inspected the farm and came to agreements with H. C. Hinch of Plattekill. They also purchased another adjoining property. These gentlemen expect to take up general farming and purchased the large dairy of Mr. Hinch. They will take possession immediately.

CITY SALOONS TO GO ON SATURDAY

Forty-six Drinking Places Are Then To Close To Hint as Closes—No Provisions For Further Licensing By State, Except of Drug Stores—No License Required For Soft Drinks.

Kingston's forty-six saloons will cease to exist as such on Saturday night, when the short time license issued to the survivors in the business last October expires. There is no provision for further licensing except the drug stores. While a room may be as sweet by any other name, the local saloons have not been the old time saloons since July 1, when the sale of hard liquors was prohibited under war time regulations, and 2.75 beer was the beverage with the greatest kick permissible. Since 2.75 was also placed under the ban and .005 was the limit, no intoxicant has been permissible and the saloons were such only in the fact that they were subject to the regulations of the state excise department because they retained a short time certificate.

The Newburgh News in commenting on the situation in Newburgh, where fifty-one third emporiums draw the curtain says:

If there remains any glint of silver lining in the cloud of gloom which enshrouds the business of being a saloonkeeper it is the fact that at present there is apparently nothing to require the license of establishments which sell soft drinks and near beer, if beer which complied with the Volstead definition can be properly described as even approximate. Until there is further legislation defining what is and what is not "liquor" under the state excise law or until the courts have decided whether near beer comes into that category or is outside the pale there is no provision for further licensing.

By reason of the Federal enactment such ex-saloons as elect to keep their swinging doors swinging must take down all signs and tokens which might indicate that their business in life was the purveying of alcoholic liquors. But there is no law which will prevent them stocking up with soft drinks and brown liquors which look like, but are not, beer, and for the sale of these there is, at least at present, no license required. This is according to a statement made Monday by Excise Commissioner Sisson at Albany. Later, Commissioner Sisson indicated, legal action might decide whether the sale of near beers required a license under the existing state regulations, but for the present there is a clear field.

Some of the saloon men have said they would open on Sunday and apparently there is nothing to prevent them so doing. That they have not been open on Sunday heretofore was due to the fact that they retained the state certificate which prohibited Sunday opening. But it is clear that after Saturday the saloon will have nothing for sale on Monday which could not be equally permissible on Sunday.

Judge Parker will make an address. A number of former Kingstonians will attend the recital. ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS

INCOME TAX MORE LIBERAL

The man who pays an income tax this year has several reasons for which to be thankful. First, that his income for 1919 was sufficient to place it within the taxable list; second, that the normal rates are lower than for 1918; and, third, that the current revenue act is more liberal in its provisions than preceding acts.

Prior to 1916 a distinction was made between only two classes of taxpayers. A man was either married or single, and was taxed accordingly. The act of September 8, 1916, extended the exemption privileges in one respect. Recognition was taken of the fact that many unmarried persons, in the maintenance of a household, assume the same responsibilities as a married man. Under the 1916 act the exemptions allowed a married person were extended to include the "head of a family." A single man, if his net income for 1919 was $1,000 or more must file a return, but if he is the sole support of relatives by blood, marriage or adoption, living in the same house with him, and if he exercises control of household affairs, he is granted an exemption of $2,000.

Still another distinction was drawn by the revenue act of 1917. An additional allowance of $200 was made on each child dependent upon its parent, provided such child was under 14 or mentally or physically defective. The exemption applied only to the father or mother who was supporting a dependent child in his or her household.

The revenue act of 1918 extended further the exemption privileges. The additional $200 allowance now applies to each "person" rather than husband or wife dependent upon the taxpayer, if such person is under 18 years of age, or incapable of self-support. Thus, for example, if a man supports his mother, uncle, or aunt in a sanitarium, he is entitled to the $200 additional exemption, but if he supports his children at home and his wife in a sanitarium he receives no additional exemption for his wife.

Under the 1915 act deductions for losses sustained outside of the taxpayer's regular business were not allowed. The merchant or professional man who took an unfortunate loss in the stock market was granted no allowance for such loss in the making of his income-tax return. The act of 1916 allowed such losses to the extent of gains in similar transactions. For example, the taxpayer who such not being his regular business, made $100 in one stock transaction and in another lost $100 gain and could deduct only that amount as a loss. The 1918 act provides for the deduction of all losses "if incurred in any transaction entered into for profit" though not connected with trade or business.

Prior to 1917 deductions for contributions to corporations organized for the purpose of relieving the needy or for other charitable purposes were not allowed. Under the current act such deductions are allowed to an amount not in excess of 15 per cent of taxpayer's net income.

The normal rate of tax for 1919 is 4 per cent on the first $1,000 or net income and 8 per cent on net income above that amount. As in 1918, the tax may be paid in full or in four installments, the first of which must accompany the filing of the return on or before March 15, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before September 15, and the fourth on or before December 15. Forms for making returns may now be obtained at the offices of collectors of internal revenue, post offices, and banks. If the taxpayer's net income for 1919 was $5,000 or less, he should ask for Form 1040-A. If it was more than $5,000, he should ask for Form 1040. The assistance of training revenue agents, who will visit every county in the United States, is offered taxpayers in making out their returns.

GRAND GORGE.

Grand Gorge, Jan. 23.—Watson Thornton has sold his farm on Ferris Hill, near this village, to Jay Mondore, who will take possession about April 1. Rumor has it that Mr. Thornton received $14,000 for his farm.

Orrin Day Wood, cashier of the First National Bank of Grand Gorge, has been confined to his bed with a severe cold. At the present writing he is much improved and is able to sit up a few hours a day. Charles Harley, vice president of the bank, is assisting with the work during Mr. Wood's illness.

Monday the remains of Miss Julia Weeks, an elderly lady and former resident of this place, arrived on the morning train east. They were interred in the cemetery near the M. E. Church in the family plot.

The funeral of Mr. W. C. Burham, aged 71 years, was held at the home of his son, Ray Burham, on Tuesday, January 20. The deceased was one of the oldest and most respected residents of Grand Gorge, and will long be remembered for his kindly manner, good nature and neighborliness. Two sons, Ray of this village, and Willis of Oswego, survive him.

Helen Jordan has filled his home with an excellent quality of ice averaging 20 inches in thickness from Newman's pond on Ferris Hill. He and his father, Henry Jordan, went to Prattville to send his brother, Fred Jordan, to fill his ice house there.

Miss Ella Winger, who is employed at the home of George Lane in Prattville, spent the week-end with her mother and sisters on Main street.

Thomas F. Wainwright of Washington has a business office in town Monday.

NOTED SPEAKERS IN TOWN TONIGHT

Mass Meeting At Holy Cross Hall—
In Interest of N. W. C.—Captain Kraft to Preside—General Public Welcomed.

This evening at eight o'clock, Holy Cross Parish will hold a mass meeting of all the parishioners and friends of Holy Cross in the interest of the nation wide campaign. The general public is welcome to hear the distinguished speakers who will address the meeting, the Rev. Dr. Theodore Sedgwick and Miss Margaret Jeffreys Hobart.

Dr. Sedgwick is the rector of Calvary Parish, New York City, in which parish the new rector of Holy Cross was long a communicant before entering holy orders, and where, later, he was a curate under Dr. Sedgwick. During the ten years that Dr. Sedgwick has been rector of Calvary he has done a work that has attracted national attention. While one of the oldest and most heavily endowed parishes in New York City, yet Calvary's work is largely institutional. There is hardly any phase of life that the rector of such a parish, the influence exerted by Dr. Sedgwick has been extremely large. As a speaker and preacher he ranks among the first in the country, of a kindly and charming personality, and possessed of a broad sympathy, it has been unavoidable that he should exert the influence that he does.

The other speaker of the evening will be Miss Margaret Jeffreys Hobart, of great ability as a thinker, writer and speaker. As assistant editor of the Churchman, she is unhesitating in showing the church its duty in this period of reconstruction, and is constantly sounding a clarion call to churchmen and churchwomen to arise to their responsibilities as citizens. She comes of her power by inheritance. Her father is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Hobart, the writer of a series of mysterious plays, so beautiful in their poetry and teaching power that they are constantly being revived for performance throughout the Anglican Communion.

Captain William Kraft will preside over this meeting, which should be of great interest to all Kingston on account of the ability of the speakers, as well as the cause for which it is being held.

THEY HAD ONE TOO.

Man Tries to Pass Fake Check in Poughkeepsie.

No trace has been found as yet of the person giving his name as W. B. Hill, who tried to pass a $35 check bearing the name of S. H. Brown, a prominent Poughkeepsie lawyer, on Edward Cundy at his place of business in Poughkeepsie late Saturday afternoon.

"Hill" entered Mr. Cundy's place of business and said he wanted to purchase a picture to give to his daughter for a birthday present. After selecting one which cost $6.50 he handed a $35 check bearing the name of S. H. Brown, which Mr. Cundy refused to cash. "Hill" then told Mr. Cundy that Mr. Brown gave him the check in payment for some sign painting.

After "Hill" had left the store Mr. Cundy called Mr. Brown and the latter denied he gave "Hill" any such check and that the man had done any sign painting for him. The police were then notified. "Hill" is described by Mr. Cundy as short of stature and about 35 years old. He wore a green-gray overcoat and a felt hat of the same color.

Lecture on Bird Life.

Already many tickets have been sold for the lecture on "Wild Bird Life" which is to be given Wednesday evening, February 4, at St. Mary's Hall under the auspices of the Audubon Society of the Kingston High School. Herbert K. Job, who delivers this lecture, has wonderful pictures to show. Very many of these have been published in Mr. Job's books and are available in many of our principal bookstores of four or five thousand copies. These pictures are never dry or faded. They are full of life and color. The pictures cover all orders of North American birds and represent high water mark in nature photography. Mr. Job has also lectured with them for two seasons in succession to young, as well as to adults.

A NIGHTLY PARAMOUNT ARTISTART SPECIAL—AN ARSENE LUPIN STORY.

"THE TEETH OF THE TIGER"

Old man Foster murdered! His young wife and her lover in the hands of the police. Arsene Lupin, arch-criminal, arrested and escaping. No tangible clue but the marks of two rows of teeth.

How in the "house of mystery" the trained physician finds the dead man's silver in a chair, so that the "Tooth marks" could be found when he blew the house to atoms.

Then suddenly that cold grim smile—the voice of the "tiger"—and the click of an automatic!

David Powell, Monte Montague, Margaret Conrad and Charles Correll in one of the greatest mystery stories ever screened.

Getting Rid of House Pests.
Cockroaches or the "brown bug" may be held in check by setting out two saucers, one containing a mixture of flour and plaster paris and the other filled with water. The mixture should be four parts plaster of paris and one part of flour. Badly infested apartments may be thoroughly rid of this pest by fumigating with hydrocyanic acid gas.

STATE INCOME TAX OFFICES COMPLETE

Even to Stenographer Where All Kinds of Blanks are Kept—Mr. Hasbrouck and Corps Ready for Task.

The office of J. DePuy Hasbrouck, district director of state income tax, located in the old Weiner building on Broadway, over the branch of the Kingston Trust Company, is one of the finest suites of offices in the city. The entire second floor of the building is occupied by the bureau and everything has been arranged in such a manner that there will be no delay or confusion when during the last period of collection there is bound to be a general rush. The work room where the auditors will be kept busy is light and airy with all possible conveniences for rapid and careful work. The front of the building has been arranged for the handling of people who come to pay their tax. Here where the assistants are constantly under his direction, Mr. Hasbrouck has established his office so that he will be able to supervise and assist in the work.

A small room has been provided for the stenographer so that the work will not interfere with the auditors or the collectors.

The entire office has been fitted out with desks and as soon as the filing cabinets arrive they will be installed. The filing cabinets have been ordered through Foxworth & Davis and are of the steel sectional make which may be added to from time to time as necessity arises.

At present there are 11 employees at work but when the rush begins it is likely that there will have to be more assistants added. At the present time the permanent employees are J. DePuy Hasbrouck, district director; Henry C. Reynolds, senior auditor, Kingston; Victor M. Terwilliger, auditor, Goshen; Ralph V. Hayes, auditor, Saugerties; William M. A. O'Neill, auditor, Highland Falls; Thomas F. Coughlin, junior auditor, Kingston; Harold V. Farrell, junior auditor, Goshen; Leon L. Gardner, junior auditor, Goshen; Mabel Wilkins, clerk, Kinderhook; Ella M. Millham, stenographer, Kingston; Bertram C. Keefe, junior auditor, Newburgh, under assignment to the Albany office, is at present temporarily located with Mr. Hasbrouck.

One of the biggest divisions in the question department where all manner of questions are asked and answered. Mr. Hasbrouck is always willing to answer any questions which may arise in connection with the payment of income tax and every member of the department has been instructed to answer all and any questions which may be asked. Any taxpayer who is not entirely familiar with the problem of payment of his tax should come or write to the district office and his questions will be cheerfully answered.

District Director Hasbrouck has appeared in a number of the towns of his district in Greene, Ulster and Orange counties and given talks in the income tax problems. Any community which desires to have such a talk may arrange for a date by writing to the Comptroller, Publicity Division, Income Tax Bureau, Albany, where a date will be fixed. District Director J. DePuy Hasbrouck will be glad to come and make such an address but it should be arranged for through the department at Albany, as all such assignments to speak are made from that department.

The last due date for payment of state income tax is March 15, and all taxes not paid at that time will be collected with an additional cost. The present payment is for incomes for 1919. As there will undoubtedly be a tremendous rush during the last few weeks everyone who can possibly do so is urged to come in early and pay, as this will not only lighten the burden of the collectors during the last few days but will also save the taxpayers valuable time.

The district office was opened for the convenience of people of the immediate vicinity and all returns should be made and questions asked there. This will prevent a flood of work at Albany.

In order to handle the business with the least delay a storeroom has been built in the local office where all kinds of blanks are kept, each in a separate compartment, labeled, so that any stranger may come into the office and pick out just the blank he desires. This arrangement will be of the greatest value to the employees during the last few days when the rush is bound to be great. It is estimated that the busiest time will be from the middle of February until the last days when payments are due.

Any blanks which may be necessary, any questions in regard to the income tax law or other questions will be answered by writing or coming to the district office on Broadway, corner of Frederick street, near the main post office, where Mr. Hasbrouck or some member of his staff will be on duty.

DOG TAX FUND NOW AVAILABLE

For Payment of Deferred Claims For Damages to Domestic Animals by Dogs—County Treasurers Now Have Funds.

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson stated today that approval by the governor of the Witter bill, making it chapter one of the laws of 1920, and providing for the transfer of $241,555.12, collected in 1919 for dog licenses, and in the hands of the state treasurer, to the county treasurers, will permit the payment of claims for sheep killed by dogs. This money is to be divided in proportion to the amount received from each county for licenses. President William E. Dana, of the council of farms and markets, explained that many claims for damages to domestic animals by dogs which have been filed in the offices of county clerks, were not paid due to retention of the license money in the state treasurer's office.

Under the old law, money collected for dog licenses was turned over to the state treasurer and all claims were paid through the division of agriculture. Under the old law, the year for which a license fee was paid began March 1.

On March 1, 1919, dog owners began paying dog license fees to town and city clerks and these amounts, in accordance with the existing statute, were forwarded to the state treasurer.

On May 7, 1919, the governor approved a bill which required all dog license fees to be turned over to county treasurers and that all claims for damages to sheep or domestic animals be filed with county treasurers. The law provided one-tenth of the amount collected by county treasurers for fees be forwarded to the state treasurer to pay the expense of administering the dog law. The remaining nine-tenths was to be retained by county treasurers to pay claims. Between March 1, 1919 and May 7, 1919, more than half of the total for dog licenses was paid in 19 town and city clerks and sent to the state treasurer, in accordance with the provisions of the old law. After May 7, the remaining portion was turned over to county clerks, but this was not sufficient to pay all claims filed, so that these payments were held up until legislative action could be taken, transferring the dog license money held by the state treasurer to the county treasurers.

Novelty Social.

A "Novelty Social" under the auspices of the "Armistice Endeavor Society" of the Waris Street Baptist Church will be given in the Sunday School room of that church, Friday evening, January 28. Besides a delightful entertainment, other attractions of the evening will be: A Japanese tea garden, an Art South where many pretty hand painted articles will be on sale, and it is expected that Madame Zenda, the famous fortune teller, will create her tent there. The Art Gallery too will play a prominent part in the evening's entertainment, and promises a great surprise to all who visit this department. Ice cream and cake will, of course, be obtainable. Come out and enjoy yourself! And bring a friend.
